County Commission votes to impose one-cent sales tax

ADDRESSES COMMISSION... Elba School Board chairman, Dr. Bill Cowart, reads from financial statement of local school system. Cowart told the county commission that the Elba schools would lose approximately $400,000 over the next two years due to cuts and needed revenue generated by a 1-cent countywide sales tax.

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, August 25, in a packed courtroom at the Elba courthouse, and after hearing representatives from the Coffee County Board of Education and Elba City School Board request financial aid, voted to immediately impose a 1-cent countywide sales tax, with all proceeds going to the schools in the county.

County Supt. Clayton Bryant addressed the commission Monday and asked that the 1-cent sales tax be imposed countywide.

"The Coffee County School System faces an immediate financial dilemma," Bryant stated. "The funds generated by the tax can be used to reduce the effects of proration and hopefully at a later date provide funds to improve the school system."

Bryant told the commission that the county system, which includes schools at Zion Chapel, New Brockton and Kinston, will have seen approximately $600,000 in funds cut from revenue by the end of the current school year.

"Fifty-one percent of the people in this county live outside the city limits of Enterprise and Elba," said Bryant, "and this commission holds the future of these people and their children in their hands."

Dr. Bill Cowart, chairman of the Elba School Board, told the commission that the Elba system faces the same financial problems as the county, and reported the city system lost $105,000 in expected revenue in the 1985-86 fiscal year and faces an additional $189,000 cutback for the coming year.

"The Elba City Schools are in an extreme financial hardship and need your help," stated Cowart.

Commissioner Jimmy Bryan stated the county governing body was also facing hard economic times and reported the county general fund was facing an 18 percent cutback.

"In an effort to provide aid to both the schools and to the county, and to let the citizens have a voice in the matter, I make a motion to place a referendum on the November ballot to let the people vote on a 1-cent sales tax with the funds to be divided between the schools (75 percent), and the county (25 percent)," said Bryan.

Commissioner Eugene Bradley seconded the motion; however, Commissioner Billy Egerton made a motion to amend Bryant's original motion.

Under Egerton's amendment, the commission would impose a 1-cent sales tax immediately with all funds going to the schools, while in January the commission would seek legislation to allow the county to receive 25 percent of the tax collections.

Commissioner Sid Averett seconded Egerton's motion, but Bryan objected, declaring that Egerton's motion "completely reverses my motion to let the people vote and say how they want the money to be used."

Egerton withdrew his motion and Bryant's original motion failed on a 4-2 vote, with Egerton, Stephens, Faulk and Averett all voting no.

Egerton then repeated his original motion and Averett again seconded the motion.

Commissioner Bill Faulk pledged support of the tax and stated, "We have delayed a decision to verify the need - and the need is there!"

Commissioner Robert Stephens said he would support the tax, but urged the schools "to tighten your belts and use the money wisely."

Commissioner Bradley stated, "I was elected by a majority of the people and want to let a majority of the people have a chance to vote on a tax."

Commissioner Bryan then attempted to amend Egerton's motion to give the schools all the 1-cent sales tax money and seek legislation to add an additional 1/4 cent for the county, only to see the motion die for lack of a second.

The commission then voted 4-2, with Bryan and Bradley casting no votes, to impose the tax, much to the delight of the crowd, which applauded loudly in approval.

The 1-cent sales tax will take effect as soon as required paperwork can be filed, and could be collected within a matter of weeks.

The tax is expected to generate a minimum of $1.5 million a year, with Elba's schools to receive approximately $250,000.

Monday's meeting began at 9 a.m., and after the routine approval of minutes, the commission heard two rural residents ask for assistance.

Mr. Feazel Smith complained that when the county paved the Ted Rugg Road his fence was damaged and was still in need of repair.

The commission agreed it would repair the damage done by the county and instructed the county engineer to meet with Smith to determine the actual damage.

A member of the Perdue Assembly of God Church asked the commission to pave a narrow portion of the entrance to the church and was told the work would be done as soon as possible, along with work at Union Grove and Salem.

Mrs. Alma Peters told the commission she had an idea on how to raise money, and suggested a soft drink tax.

"It seems every time a tax is mentioned it's a so-called 'sin tax,'" said Mrs. Peters. "Well, some people's sins are others' pleasures, and I think the soft drink tax could be an alternative."

The soft drink tax discussed by Mrs. Peters was mentioned as an alternative to a tobacco tax planned to aid fire departments in the county.

According to Mrs. Peters, a survey in Elba revealed that approximately 1600 cases of soft drinks were sold each week.

The commission agreed to discuss the proposed tax at a later meeting.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

heard the county engineer give a progress report on various projects;

donated $100 to the South Alabama State Fair in Montgomery; agreed to send out bids on resurfacing, pest control, bank depositing and health insurance; and heard everything was "go" for the Sept. 2 special election.

Elba City Council hears garbage proposals

The Elba City Council listened to two proposals for pickup of garbage by private concerns at their regular Monday evening meeting. Waste-Away Inc. of Montgomery and Scientific Industries of Dothan each made presentations to the council on just what their firm proposed to do for Elba if given the contract. No prices were mentioned, as one of the firms wasn't prepared to give a bid at that time. However, if the council does decide to consider the matter further, both are prepared to make a firm bid on a three- to five-year contract.

Both firms offered a number of references from satisfied customers they are presently serving. Questions from city fathers on how they could do the job cheaper than city crews received several possible solutions. One was the tremendous buying power of the larger firms; another was a reported ability to get more production from individual workers by paying for work completed, rather than by the hour.

Waste-Away would use its own landfill while Scientific Industries would utilize the existing county landfill for garbage and the city-owned landfill for leaves and limbs.

The council authorized Mayor English to enter into a contract with the U.S. Census Bureau to conduct a new count of the citizens of Elba. The purpose of this count is to accurately divide the city into wards for voting purposes. The council has previously agreed to change to the single-ward system of selecting city members. This would allow for election of council members from wards (or districts) with only those in that particular district voting for their council member. Certain regulations made to insure equal representation require an accurate count of residents and exactly where they live before setting the ward lines. The wards can have a variance of only ten (10%) percent from the most population to the least. It is expected this change will be in place prior to the next city elections.

Mayor English told council members that the sidewalk at Dorsey Trailers has been finished with the help of the company itself. He noted that the metal bridges were built and painted by Dorsey Trailer experts. Kleinert's has done some beautification work with some help from the city street department, and some drainage work is still needed and will be done, according to the mayor.

Also, he has scheduled some cleanup on Taylor Mill Road to include improving of drainage in some yards to eliminate problems caused by road and sidewalk construction.

Also, English announced to the council that he has given tentative go-ahead to the Alabama Conservation Dept. to look into the legal possibility of the City of Elba gaining ownership to the Coffee County Lake. He said that in spite of rumors to the contrary, nothing else has been done on the matter, nor could it be done until the matter is voted on by the city council.

He is married to the former Helen Flowers Crittenden and has four children: Demetrius, Jacklyn Denise, Daryl and Dimitri.

Ernest "Buck" Love is an abstract examiner, a bondsman and a process server for the courts.

In a statement of his candidacy made recently, Love said, "As a family man, even though Coffee County has some of the best schools in the state, I want to do my part when elected a Coffee County Commissioner to insure that our county government does everything it can to stand behind our schools."

He also emphasized his support of our law enforcement agencies and courts. Love concluded, "When elected Commissioner, I also expect to represent all equally and fairly and my doors will always be open to the people of the District in which I will serve."

Love and his wife, Rhonda, have a one-year-old son and are expecting another child in March of next year.

Coffee County native, Mary Emma Redmon said in making her bid for the commission office, "I wanted to have a greater voice in deciding what is best for our county. I feel this is a chance for me to do something for others. This is my community and I want to help make it a better place for all the citizens here."

She stated her continued support of the current commission projects and her interest in improving industrial options in the county.

The 45-year-old mother of five is currently employed with the Coffee County Public Health Department in Enterprise. In addition, she has been a pink lady, a Red Cross Volunteer and worked with the County Extension Service. Redmon is a member of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, is a foster parent for the county and a state field worker for the Southeastern District Convention headquartered in Selma.

Redmon concluded by reminding everyone in the district to "get out and vote."

Redmon challenged

The Coffee County Branch of the Alabamian Democratic Conference announced this week that it had issued an official challenge of the certification of Mary Emma Redmon as a candidate for Coffee County commissioner in District 5.

In a letter dated August 25, addressed to the Alabama Democratic Executive Committee, the local ADC chapter stated its opposition was based on a questionable residency and on violation of the Hatch Act of 1940.

Concerning the Hatch Act, the letter stated all local, state and federal employees paid with federal funds are prohibited from taking part in political campaigns for office.

In the letter's closing paragraph, the ADC requested that Redmon's name be deleted from the ballot.

Five residents to seek new Coffee County Commission seat from district 5

Five persons have announced their plans to seek the county commission seat in the newly created District 5 in Coffee County. On the democratic ticket are Lee Boyd, Damascus Crittenden, Jr., Ernest "Buck" Love and Mary Emma Redmon. The single Republican candidate is B.M. "Buck" Bowdoin.

B.M. "Buck" Bowdoin, a native of New Brockton and a retired naval veteran, is the lone republican candidate in the current county commission race for seat 5.

"This is a fine opportunity for introducing the two-party system to Coffee County," Bowdoin explained. "I feel I'm fully capable of representing both the white and black residents of the district, having a good knowledge of the problems facing county government."

"The county road engineer and sheriff are doing a great job and I will continue to support their efforts," he continued. "A major issue facing the county according to Bowdoin is "Does the county desire to continue the programs established in recent history or do we want to cut back to them?"

He is a member and immediate past president of the Bolt Weevil Lion's Club, a member of the Enterprise Amateur Radio Society, and the Retired Officers Association. Bowdoin and his wife Peggy have

Brainstorms

With Ferrin Cox

Last week we received some telephone calls, a couple of written statements, etc., concerning the legality of one of the candidates for county commissioner in District 5. This new district will be voted on only by those in the district. There was (or is) a question in the minds of some voters - or maybe other candidates - about Mrs. Redmon not living in the district until recently. We checked with the Democratic Committee and were told they would not address the matter unless a court challenge was filed. Further checking revealed that apparently there is nothing wrong with this. A state representative candidate was challenged on this, he won and served in the state House. Another complaint is that Mrs. Redmon is paid with federal funds. We have a copy of a letter written to the state Democratic Party indicating this may violate the Hatch Act. It may - but the federal funds as we see them come to the state and are paid out to state employees. She is presently on a leave of absence and not even receiving those - or so we understand. In fact when we tried to contact her last week, Mrs. Redmon was in Europe; she has since returned. We look at this however and see a close relationship with National Guard and Army Reserve funds. Our state government is loaded with both elected and merit system employees who draw both these checks. In fact they are in the perfect position to go places as "weekend warriors" because of state laws that allow ample time for needed training. We see no viable challenge to her candidacy - but then we aren't the courts.

District 5 residents who find they are not on either the first list of voters nor the supplemental list we are publishing this week need to tread lightly. They may still vote, as we understand the law; however, they must cast a challenge ballot in case there is further question on their right to vote in this election. We remind our readers - they must be legal residents of this district to vote next Tuesday, or in the possible runoff set for September 28, 1986. With four candidates we do expect a runoff. Then in November we will see the Democrat face the lone Republican candidate in that race.

Attorney General Charles Graddick has lost his last court challenge to the actions of the Alabama Democratic Party. He continues however to rush headlong down that path of self-destruction already blazed by the Democrat Party. His idea of waging a write-in campaign has little or no chance of being successful in doing anything but ending his political career and assuring Bill Baxley of sitting in the governor's chair for four years. We can find absolutely nothing to praise about Alabama politics of the past year. Sitting on the sidelines we don't find a single main player interested in the future of the Democratic Party nor the integrity and reputation of the State of Alabama. It seems their interests have been and continue to be a bit self-centered.

Those of us who have been trying to decide if we liked the idea of sharing a common ancestry with apes now have something else to confuse our slow brains. A discovery in a dried lake bed in Kenya (that's in Africa) of a 2 1/2-million-year-old skull has confused even the educated experts and cause them to rethink their theories on wherefrom we come. We have never really worried about monkey ancestors any more than we shared a grandfather's shame that an early forefather left England by swimming to a ship with the law after him. We had nothing to do with either, even if they are true, and are only happy with the way things are going today and look forward to tomorrow!

William Rehnquist has been nominated to be Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. During hearings before the politicians he has really been raked over the coals. We accept the fact that we aren't big enough nor learned enough to ever be subjected to such treatment, but I would strongly resent that type questioning from the likes of such Senators as Edward Kennedy. With his track record, it is only his family name and money that kept him his position and allows him to keep it. We would be inclined to let our red neck show and tell him where to go if he started such garbage with us.

The shooting death of 14 postal workers in Oklahoma is tragic. We sometimes think the whole world is going to pot when something like this happens. But it ain't. We have many more people packed closer together, and percentage-wise, we are probably more civilized. This will not help the families of those who lost loved ones, but maybe we can keep from crawling in a hole ourselves. Our prayers go out to the families of those 14 killed and also to the injured. There is also a heavy burden for the family of the man accused of the killings. They too must carry a heavy load of guilt that is none of their doings.

The pressure to cut off all trade with South Africa goes deeper than diamonds on the ring finger. Seventy percent of the world's platinum is produced there and 29 percent in Russia. If we cut off all trade, our less-than-one-percent of the world's production will not go far in catalytic converters, high quality glass and cancer drugs. Also 60 percent of the world's diamonds are used in industrial applications and not jewelry. If carried out, it could cause problems.

New Brockton, Conn. from Page 1 the sewerage plant itself. It is anticipated that a portion of the $600,000 grant will also go toward funding some of the hook-ups under Phase I of this project. The CDBG monies will provide hook-ups for a lower income section of the City.

Construction of the sewerage plant to be located on U.S. Highway 84 between Lake Lucille and the Coffee County Farm Center, may begin as early as September.

Extended plans for Phase II will include applications for additional grant funds to complete the hook-ups for all city residents.

Letter To The Editor

Welcome Charlie!

The State Democratic Party is at it again, repeating the same type of plot that got them into trouble in 1982. A few individuals in the party have continued to run state government by disregarding the will of the public. Last time it was to control the Legislature and only the select few - what complete, now they have decided to take over the Governor's office.

In 1982 I decided to run for the Legislature and, like Charles Graddick, I believed to win in Alabama you had to be a Democrat. I qualified for House District 6 and a few days later a friend called from Montgomery and told me that he had overheard a conversation of the special interest leaders and I would be disqualified by the party. Yes it all came true, and Charlie, I went through the courts to win a right to run. The Circuit Court said that I was eligible. However, that did not fit into the party's theme. Upon appeal to the State Supreme Court, Mr. Knight and gang got what they wanted, a decision that I might be eligible but the party had the right to hand pick someone else if they so desired. They did, and Charlie I was mad too.

Since I had already bought the campaign material, I qualified as an independent and was on the ballot in November. Mr. Graddick, I hope you will learn from my mistake and not fall for the same thing. I pulled enough votes away from Republican candidates thus allowing the hand-picked candidate to win the election. Consider this carefully before you decide to jump back into the race.

The Republican party offered me an outstretched hand and a commitment to allow me to run on their ticket in 1983. The people of this district spoke loud and clear and elected me to the Alabama Legislature. One thing I learned and hope that I never forget, the elected offices of this state do not belong to the individual holding them, nor do they belong to any political party exclusively. They belong to those citizens who care enough to go to the polls and vote for the person of their choice. The people of Alabama will reject the dictatorial practices we have just witnessed in your race.

So Charlie, you see you are not alone in the treatment you received and you might want to look to the G.O.P. in the future as that appears to be where the future for this state is.

Schools To Sponsor Fund Raising Projects

The Elba Elementary and Middle School PTO will sponsor providing fund-raising projects to provide needed monies due to funding cutbacks.

Money raised from the projects will be used to purchase badly needed instructional materials to be used in the classrooms.

Children as well as parents will be asked to participate. Items to be offered for sale will include cookies and candy in decorative tins, gourmet popcorn, sausages and cheese spreads, and prizes will be given to top sellers. Parents and teachers are asking for the public's support in this project.

Jurasek Completes Basic Training

Jeffrey W. Jurasek, son of James J. Jurasek of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Gloria J. Jurasek of Elba, has completed training in fundamental military skills at the Army ROTC Challenge camp, formerly Basic camp, at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The Challenge camp is designed to give college juniors and sophomores who have not taken ROTC courses the chance to enter the program. The camp also qualifies high school graduates for the ROTC program at any of the nation's six military junior colleges.

During the encampment, cadets received training in basic rifle marksmanship, military drill and ceremonies, communications and individual and small unit tactics.

Jurasek plans to enter the ROTC program at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa.

Skinner Promoted To Reserve Staff Sergeant

Audrey L. Skinner was awarded the rank of Staff Sergeant with the 91st Maintenance Company, U.S. Army Reserve in Dothan on Saturday, August 16.

He received his NCO training last August at Ft. Campbell, Ky. This past spring he participated in the "Blazing Trail" in Panama.

Audrey is the son of Dorothy L. Skinner and the late Donald L. Skinner of Elba, and lives on Rt. 1, New Brockton.

Planned Arguments - What are planned arguments? Who wants to "play" to have an argument anyway? When we use the term "planned argument," we are not meaning to say that we deliberately plan to have a disagreement with our spouse. What we are saying is that there is a difference of opinion between the spouses and that careful consideration is given to what the difference of opinion is. Thought and planning go into a decision as to what will be said and an appropriate time and place is selected for the discussion of planned argument.

Planned argument simply means that you plan what you will say, rather than planning to have an argument. Most often when couples argue, anger is the emotion that gets in the way of a discussion that can lead to a solution of the problem. Rarely are spouses able to solve problems when they are both angry. When you are very angry, you are not in a position to think clearly. This activity should be something physical such as weeding the flower bed or pounding nails.

At any rate what we are saying is, re-channel the angry energy. Control the anger rather than letting the anger control you. In anger we say things and do things that we do not mean. If we "win an argument," what have we accomplished anyway? We have reduced the marital relationship to a power struggle. Marriage is not a contest to see who can win.

In discussing differences of opinion with your spouse, listen carefully to what your spouse is saying as well as the feelings they are expressing. Also, be honest with yourself about your own feelings, whatever those feelings may be. Be willing to share your feelings, both negative and positive. Be careful not to issue threats to your mate and don't attack your mate personally. If you do not understand what your spouse is saying, there is nothing wrong in asking for an explanation. This is a part of good communication - understanding what is being said.

Choose a proper time for the planned argument and select your

Agape Of Enterprise Is Available To Help Those In Need

A social agency dedicated to helping children, families and individuals in stressful times of their lives has recently been established in the Wiregrass area. The agency is called "Agape," Greek word for unselfish love. God-like love is located in Enterprise, and is actually a branch of Agape of South Alabama, Inc., located in Mobile, where it has been in existence for over 10 years.

Affiliated with, and supported almost totally by, the Churches of Christ in Alabama, and local individuals and congregations, Enterprise branch is housed in a part of the College Avenue Church of Christ building. Begun in December, 1985, the organization serves the counties of Coffee, Dale, Covington, Henry, Houston and Geneva.

Agape initially came into existence from the love and desire of church members to help provide foster care for children whose home lives were disrupted by circumstances beyond their control, and who, because of problems that arose, needed to be separated from their families for a period of time. It has grown to include assistance to unwed mothers, adoption and counseling.

These facets of the Enterprise Agape are carried out by Chuck Shepherd, caseworker. A native of Dalton, Ga., Shepherd received his B.S. degree in social work from David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn., moving to Florida where he became caseworker with the Mt. Dora Children's Home, and worked in the church's Bible School program. While in Florida he met and married his wife, the former Joy Spivy, who is a nurse. They have no children.

Being the lone staff member in Enterprise, Shepherd says he stays very busy, with a large portion of his time taken up with finding foster homes. He interviews and screens prospective foster parents, so that when a call is received requesting a home, there will be one available.

However, he does not investigate home situations where the children are located. That aspect is carried out by a state agency, Human Resource Department, until recently the Dept. of Pensions and Security. Agape works closely with the state agency, the two cooperating to provide help to those in need.

Agape of South Alabama is licensed by the state, in accordance with Alabama law, as a child-placing agency.

The adoption services and counseling go hand-in-hand with the agency's assistance to unwed mothers. Agape will counsel with the prospective mother - and/or families involved - offering mainly alternatives to abortion. If adoption is decided on by the mother-to-be, then Agape will provide financial assistance, locate a home for the child, and provide living arrangements away from her family if necessary until her child is born. If the unwed mother is underage, an approved foster home is provided until the baby's birth.

Counseling is afforded in all instances to help make appropriate decisions in individual circumstances.

One of Shepherd's main duties is

'Round And About With Eria

897-2006

Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another comforter, that he may abide with you forever. Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you, I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you. Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me, because I live, ye shall live also. At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. John 14:1-20.

Thinking of you, praying for you. Mrs. Eddie M. Tyson, Mrs. Lovie Hooks, Mrs. Bessie Owens, Mrs. Mizzelle McCormick, the Davis family, Mrs. Mary A. Hooks, Mr. Buford Kelley.

JENNIE MAE FLEMING HANCE

Jennie Mae Fleming Hance was born August 8, 1948, to Mr. and Mrs. Ammie Junior Fleming in Coffee County, Elba. There were four boys and seven girls in the family. She has three biological children: Jenna - 19; Bashir - 13; Nia - 6; Denzel - 13. She is a 1966 graduate of New Brockton High School and was her class's valedictorian, finishing in the top of the class.

Her college education was achieved in 1974 in the Bronx, New York, at Herbert H. Lehman College of the City University System. Her areas of concentration included Afro-American History and Elementary Education with a minor in Theatre.

She attended Officer Candidate School at the Alabama Military Academy, Ft. McClellan 1978-79; graduated as 2nd Lt., Postal Officer. To further her education, in 1979, she enrolled in the Early Childhood Program at Troy State University and graduate with a degree as Early Childhood Specialist.

She is currently a captain in the United States Army Reserve (RR) and a kindergarten teacher at Samson Elementary School.

Mrs. Hance is a member of National Education Association, Alabama Education Association and Geneva County Education Association, and she is proud of her profession as an educator. In the Geneva County Educators Association she served as president and committee chairperson. Her kindergarten class has won the grand prize, first place and second places in participating in the local, district and state Social Studies Fair since 1980.

Initiated into Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society in Education, 1973, at Herbert H. Lehman, her goal remained to strive for the highest caliber of performance. Presently she is serving as treasurer in the Horace J. Nelson, Alumni Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Drak.

She is a member of Ft. Rucker's Little Theatre, Tuskegee Airmen's Association, Chapter of the Wings Gospel Choir, Ft. Rucker; Johns Chapel African Methodist Episcopal Church, Enterprise; Young Adult Command Branch 00 Preparatory Course in ceremonies held August 7.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Editor

I took the family on vacation last week to Nashville, Tennessee, and while I will admit it was a little late to go on vacation, it was then or never; because once football starts I spend every spare moment covering ball games or writing 'em up for the paper. Yep, this time of the year I do earn my keep!

TIGERS BATTLE OZARK IN SEASON OPENER

A lot of teams try to line up an easy win for the opening game of the season; however, Elba's Coach Mack Wood decided to challenge his team early and scheduled 6A Ozark for the Tigers' opener Friday night in Elba. The Eagles will undoubtedly bring a big crowd, which is always a factor, but the crowd wasn't the only factor; the challenge of playing a bigger team has always tempted Coach Wood and his philosophy to play a bigger opponent early in the season turned into perfect timing. Win or lose Friday night, the Elba players will know just how good they are and know what it will take to win as the season goes along.

I haven't had many chances to watch the Tigers practice this summer due to umprimg and work; however, I did go to practice Monday and was more than a little surprised at the size of the team. Elba has some big players on both sides of the ball, and while the team doesn't have the luxury of a lot of players, the quality seems just as good as ever. I'm looking forward to Friday night's opener and I want every Tiger fan to cheer loud for the team throughout the game. Elba's fans are just about as famous as the team, and I don't want this year to be any different!

COUNTY TEAMS PLAY WIDE VARIETY OF COMPETITION

All three county teams also open the football season this week and all three squads face very different opponents. Here's a quick look at what to expect:

New Brockton will travel to Daleville to battle the much-talked-about Warhawks, and after talking with Gamecock Coach Leavy Boutwell it sounds like New Brockton could be in for a long night. Daleville has a new coach and a new attitude under Johnny Sanders, the former coach at Arton and Zion Chapel, and according to Boutwell the Warhawks could be the best 3A team around (including Elba). Coach Boutwell has been known to moan and groan about his team in the past; however, this year he insists the Gamecocks just don't have what it takes. I don't really believe him, but I'll give Leavy credit; he's got his act down to a fine art!

Zion Chapel must travel to Arton for its opener and Coach Tom Moates feels his Rebels are in for a tough opener against the Purple Cats. Coach Moates doesn't have the number of players he enjoyed in years past, but he has established his program up at Zion Chapel and you can bet all the guys who take the field will be ready to play. Arton was down last season and has too much tradition to stay down long, so while Coach Moates could be telling the truth about the Cats, he's heading over to Arton with one idea in mind - to win a football game!

Kinston will open at home against Straughn and the Bulldogs have to be considered a big favorite by all area football fans. The Bulldogs will field their biggest team ever and return a lot of quality players, while Straughn has stumbled badly since restarting its football program, and has always had trouble with the Bulldogs. Kinston fans are expecting big things this year and they could be in for just that!

COLLEGE FOOTBALL IS ALSO GETTING EARLIER EVERY YEAR

Old football fans say every year that the season is starting earlier and earlier every year, and while they may be right, they are definitely right when it comes to college football. Alabama's opener Wednesday in the Kickoff Classic has got to be one of the earliest starts ever in college history, and the game has got to mean that the regular season can't be far behind. I'm a big high school football fan and will watch college football on TV; but the college game doesn't carry the allegiance of high school and I find it hard to get fired up to watch a game on the tube. Oh well, ready or not - it's that time of the year!

DEATHS MAR START OF FOOTBALL SEASON

The recent deaths of a number of football players has taken a lot of the excitement out of the game for many fans. The death of Willie Ryles at Alabama hit close to home, as did the sudden death of Graceville's Eric Sorey at Southern Mississippi, and the death of a 13-year-old junior high player in Mississippi. The heat and the violent nature of the game had a lot to do with all these tragedies; however, life itself is a gamble and to put all the blame on the sport itself just isn't fair. The deaths were terrible tragedies, and I feel sorrow for all the families of the young men, but I'm sure the families know their loved ones were doing something they loved and would let them do it all over again.

YE OLE POLISH PROGNOSTICATOR RETURNS FOR ANOTHER SEASON

Some things just refuse to go away, like a nagging toothache and a bad headache, or the annual predictions of yours truly. "Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator," I had quite a year last year as I hit on over 80 percent of my picks and I'm going into this season with the same confidence. The first week you have to be a little lucky; however, for a guesser like me I simply flip a coin and polish off the old crystal ball. Here goes...

ELBA VS. OZARK

I know that the name of the school is Carroll High, but I've always preferred "Ozark," and that's what we'll call 'em this week. Elba is expected to have another good team this year and should once again challenge for the state title, but not in Class 6A, which is where the Eagles live. I know the visitors are a big favorite, as they should be, but strange things can happen on the banks of the Pea and I think Friday the Ozark fans will go home shaking their heads after a big Elba upset!

ELBA 13 - OZARK 10

NEW BROCKTON VS. DALEVILLE

When a Gamecock ties up with an Eagle, feathers are bound to fly and I don't have to tell you who will be favored to come out on top! New Brockton is in a rebuilding year, while Daleville supposedly has its best team ever. The Gamecocks won't go down without a fight, but this week their opponent may just be a little too strong!

Elba Tigers To Challenge Ozark In Season Opener

The Elba Tigers will find out in a hurry just how good they really are as they step-up three classifications Friday night to challenge the 6A Carroll High Eagles, of Ozark.

The season opener for both schools will take place in Elba, with the kickoff scheduled for 7:30. Elba, which has compiled a 21-4 record over the past two years, is ranked second in the state in Class 3A and has split the past two games with its 6A neighbors.

Practice picked up a little late last week, "but so far it's only been fair to middlin' I really don't know if we're ready to play, but if we get some leadership and have a good week this week maybe everything will fall into place."

"The offense has looked better at times," reported Wood, "and while the running attack shows potential, the passing game is a big question mark. The offensive line has a lot of work to do in a short time and I don't really think we'll be ready when we tee it up Friday night. However, we've got good kids and you can never tell until the game starts. Our defense was nonexistent until late last week, but things picked up a little Friday and I hope that's a good sign. Our defense returns a lot of people and should be solid, but the leadership isn't there and the players aren't getting after folks. We just hope the defense will improve as Friday draws near."

When asked about the "game week" schedule, Coach Wood reported the team would work on fundamentals and lift weights early in the week and then "cover everything," Tuesday and Wednesday. "This year's team hasn't shown the real desire that was such a plus last season," added Wood, "however, I've never been real good at reading a team's mind and I guess we'll all find out Friday night."

When asked about Friday night's opener against Carroll, Coach Wood stated, "Ozark has got a well coached team with a lot of talent and I know they'll be coming to town expecting to win! On offense they return three big linemen, a flanker and their best running back, and we know they'll have a wide-open attack. Last year they played real physical in the line and tried overpower us, so we'll have to be tough up front and be alert in 2nd and 3rd down. On defense they've got four or five starters back and will be very aggressive, at all times."

"Ozark has a very good team with a lot of talent," said Wood, "and we know we'll have to play, well as we can to have a chance."

New Brockton To Open Against Daleville

New Brockton football coach Leavy Boutwell expects the "feathers to be flying" Friday night when the Gamecocks travel to Daleville to battle the 3A Warhawks in the renewal of a fierce football rivalry.

"Daleville has potentially the best 3A football team around," declared New Brockton's coach Leavy Boutwell, "and if they play well it could be a long night for us. They return all three running backs and all three have true breakaway speed. They have a new quarterback that beat out a returnee and return the entire line, so it's obvious their offense is loaded. The defense is back almost entirely and they are always an aggressive bunch. This is Daleville's year and I know they'll be ready for us!"

"If we have to pull off a win we'll have to get a lot of breaks and play over our heads," said Boutwell. "We'll have to play mistake-free in all areas and show a lot of pride. We've got nothing to lose. We'll just lay our ears back, get after 'em and see what happens."

When asked about his team Coach Boutwell stated, "We've got good group of kids who like to play football and who are looking forward to Friday night! We're inconsistent in all areas on offense and have executed well in practice, while on defense our kids know what to do and how to do it, but are untested."

"We'll have to grow a lot as a team in a hurry," said Boutwell, "but these kids love it and will give all they've got."

ZION CHAPEL VS. ARITON

The Rebels made it to state last year, and while it's true most of those players are gone, the excitement still remains and Coach Moates should have a season, something unheard of over in Purple Cat country, last season and will be hungry; however, the Cats may find the Rebels a little tough to chew! Zion Chapel 16 - Arton 7

KINSTON VS. STRAUGHN

The Bulldogs will find themselves in the unfamiliar role of being the favorite in many games this year and how well the 'Dogs handle the sudden fame could be found out opening night against Straughn. Kinston should be solid and should have more than enough to handle the Tigers!

Nursing Home Spotlight

With Shirley Wise

Mrs. Florrie Wise

This last week in August (where did it go?) - August 28, 1986, to be specific - our Very Special Person at the Elba Nursing Home is indeed a very special lady who answers to the name of Florrie Bell Wise.

Miss Florrie is a very young-looking and young-acting lady of 84 - having just celebrated her birthday two weeks ago today - August 14. So, "Happy Birthday to you, Miss Florrie."

She is "clear as a bell," very alert and bright, and has a good hearing and an excellent memory.

Miss Florrie is a pretty lady with a smooth complexion, silver gray hair and bluish-green eyes. The day we visited her, she was wearing a most becoming pink-and-green floral sprigged dress which she had made herself, several years back, she told us.

Cupidean, her daughter, had told us previously that her mother "was a skilled seamstress and loved to sew, and if she had any free time, you would find her sitting at her sewing machine."

She was born in the year 1902, in the little settlement of Arcus. When I'd never heard of it before - I was told by Cupidean and Miss Florrie that it no longer exists as Arcus, but is known today as Rt. 1, Elba, up the Victoria-Brundage Highway, above the Wise Mill Community.

Back then, though, it had a post office, and Miss Florrie's father ran it, and she helped him.

When we inquired as to what she did, she said, "I'd sort the mail, I'd write out money orders. The carriers delivered the mail on horse and buggy from Elba to Victoria. (I'll hear that - Routes 1 - 5 at the Elba Post Office???) No paved roads and air conditioned cars - 70 years ago! (I really couldn't have hacked it then!)"

Miss Florrie was one of 10 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Maddox. Mrs. Maddox being the former Lila Deal Hudson.

In addition to running the post office at Arcus, Miss Florrie's father was also a substitute teacher and owned several businesses, including a grist mill, a sawmill, a cotton gin, a grocery store, and he farmed an 1188-acre farm with his father, William Maddox.

She remembers her father, whom she called "Papa," as being "of average height; he wasn't fat, but was a stout man, with black hair, and her mother, whom she called "Mama," as "very pretty with coal black hair."

The brothers and sisters of Miss Florrie are: Fanchelle, deceased, whose husband was the late Jesse Brooks; they resided in the Woodland Grove Community until their deaths. Vergie, deceased, whose husband was the late Cicero Rowell; they resided on Smith Avenue until their deaths. Velma, who is married to Selma Griffiths and they live here in Elba. Ethel, deceased, who never married and resided on Rt. 1, Elba until her death. Gardner, deceased, whose wife, the former Dixie Mae Martin, makes her home on Rt. 1, Elba. Ollie, deceased, whose wife, the former Rue Bell, lives in Phenix City. Cortez, deceased, whose wife, the former Nellie B. Dyess, makes her home on Rt. 5, Elba. Trammell, who drowned at the age of 18. Zell, who is married to Robert King and they live in Elba.

About her growing-up days, Miss Florrie told us, "I had a happy childhood."

In response to the question of sibling fuses and fights, she said, chuckling, "The boys were bad to fight - older people would put them up to it. My oldest brother was bad to get mad with us girls and kick us on the shin and Mama would have to take a switch to him."

Miss Florrie received her education at the Rosin Ridge School, another school of bygone days we can add to our list.

On January 3, 1921, Miss Florrie married Eugene H. Wise, one of 11 brothers and sisters. He was born in Jack, April 12, 1900, the son of Jesse V. Wise and Ella Chapman Wise. Mr. Jesse was a farmer.

Mr. Eugene's brothers, and sisters are: Clara, deceased, whose husband was the late Louie Dismukes; they resided in Elba until their deaths. Collis, deceased, whose wife, the former Nellie Brooks, is also deceased. They resided in the Victoria Community.

Loble, deceased, whose wife, the former Louise Mosely, makes her home in Birmingham, Ouida, whose husband was the late Frank Brooks, resides in a nursing home in Columbus, Ga. James L., who lives in Columbus, Ga., and was married to the late Carrie Sheffield. Casey, deceased, who lived in the Victoria Community and whose wife, the former lone Blanton, resides in Phenix City.

Hazel, who is married to the former Mary Kate Nolin and they are residents of Mobile. Lafay, a resident of Columbus, Ga., and whose husband was the late Earl Marsh. Jessie V. Jr., who lives in Columbus, Ga., with his wife Dorothy. Gurthree, deceased, lived in New Orleans, La., at the time of her death.

Mr. Eugene was a farmer. He and his son Duval and Mr. Duval's son Therrill farmed together. Mr. Eugene passed away December 18, 1984.

Miss Florrie is the proud and loving mother of four children: two boys and two girls. They are: Cupidean, who is married to William Crook. She is a homemaker, and Mr. Crook is a retired Air Force MSGT with 30 years and three months service, including 10 years foreign service. He served in WWII.

They are the parents of one son, Lt. Col. Harry W. Crook, who is married to the former Betty Calhoun, an Elba native. They live in Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., where Harry is stationed at Hurlbert AFB, and Betty is a homemaker. They have two sons: Clark - 12 years old, and Christopher - four.

Duval K. is married to the former Tiny Boutwell. He is a farmer and she is employed with the Brundage Shirt Factory. They have three children:

Therrill, whose wife is the former Jane Hattaway. Therrill farms with his father and Jane is employed at Ft. Rucker.

Joan is married to Robert Clark, a California native. They reside in Ft. Campbell, Ky., where Robert is an SEC in the Army and Joan is employed with a local sound center store. They are the parents of two children: Robert - 14, and Thomas - 9.

Jan is married to Wayne Ballard, an Elba native, and they reside on Rt. 3, Elba. Jan is a homemaker and Robert is a farmer. They have a daughter, Shana, age 8; and a son, Joe - 6.

Miss Florrie's second son is Fontell H., who is married to the former Catherine Byrd, a native of Ozark. They live in Montgomery, where Catherine is employed with Central Bank and Mr. Fontell is retired. Lenny resides in Rock Island, Ill., where he is with Civil Service, and is the father of one son, Joel, age 2.

Gary, who is not married, lives in Chadsworth, Ga., where he is employed as an English teacher and coach.

Joey, married to the former Michelle Newman of Prattville, makes his home in Columbia, S.C., where he works with Base Exchanges and Michelle is a homemaker. They are the parents of two children: Heather - age 3, and Brad - 1.

Bernie attends Montevello where he is a senior majoring in pre-law.

Miss Florrie's second daughter and fourth child is Barbara Jean, who is married to James Perkins, an Elba native. They reside in Largo, Fla., where Barbara Jean is a homemaker and her husband is a heavy equipment operator.

They are the parents of six children, one of whom, William, died at the age of 10, when he was struck by a car.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins are: Regina, who is married to Gary Gardner, a native of Merritt Island, Fla. They live in Lexington Park, Md., where Regina does volunteer work and Gary is employed with the Civil Service. They have two children: Cindy - 18, and Paul - 15.

Hiriam, whose wife is the former Linda Price of Largo, Fla. They live in Odessa, Fla., where Linda is a secretary and Hiriam has his doctorate in Education. They are the parents of a 5-year-old daughter, Amanda.

Craig, who is unmarried and a Florida highway patrolman living in West Bay, Fla.

Mark, whose wife is Mary. They live in Largo, Fla., where he is an electrician and Mary is employed with Public Grocery Stores. They have one daughter, Marcy, who is almost 1 year old.

Carl, who is married to Janet and they reside in Largo, Fla., where he is in construction work and Janet is a secretary. They have no children.

Miss Florrie is lovingly called "Grandmother" by the above 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

She is a dedicated and devoted member of Victoria Baptist Church, where she has been a member 60 years, having joined in 1926.

Miss Florrie has been a resident of the nursing home since July 30, 1986.

She loves "roses; the color pink;" "Christmas" is her favorite holiday; she likes "anything to eat, and especially sweets." Cupidean told us, "Mama was a good cook."

Her hobbies are "crocheting and quilting." Said Cupidean, "She was a beautiful seamstress. She made all our clothes and sewed for the public. She quilted each of us children a quilt and gave to us."

When we repeated to Miss Florrie what Cupidean said about always finding her at the sewing machine when she had some free time, she laughed and agreed, saying, "Yes, that would be the case."

Quoting Cupidean, who had some very nice and loving things to say about her mother: "Mama was very good, very kind. She was an honest, hard-working person, the strict one in the family with us children."

"Mama liked people and she liked to go. She laughed a lot and loved to sing. She was a Sacred Harp singer and never missed an all-day singing."

Miss Florrie remembers Christmas as a time when "I hung up my stockings on the mantle and we got candy, fruit, nuts, and sometimes a small toy. The last time Santa came, he brought me a doll."

She recalled the time "a friend took me to Whitewater Baptist Church and laid the lines across the footboard. The mules got scared and ran toward the woods and stopped only when the wheel got hung between the shaft and the trees."

Asked if she was frightened, she quickly replied, "No."

Asked how she liked the nursing home, she said, "The nurses are all good here. It's like a home away from home, but it's not home."

Advice to us from this octogenarian? "Do what your parents say, do go to church on Sunday, and get an education."

One magic wish: "I'd wish I would get well and could go back home."

Her response to the question, "If you could live your life over?" "If I could live my life over, I'd like to have gone on to school and become a teacher if my parents could have allowed me to."

In repeating this to Cupidean, she said Miss Florrie had always talked about wanting to be a teacher.

It's hard to imagine nowadays, with a junior college at everyone's back doorstep, so to speak, and so much free education - what with grants, loans, scholarships, work study programs, etc., that once-upon-a-time, long ago, a higher education, or merely graduating from high school was almost unheard of - not to mention a two- or four-year college; and something for only the rich and elite. I'm so thankful that times have changed in that respect.

I've really enjoyed visiting Miss Florrie, a very nice and sweet lady, and hope you did also. Please visit her and the others at the nursing home real soon.

Happy Birthday this week to: Miss Gladys Richburg, Miss Cordell Garner, who partly informed me she was "Sweet 161!"

And also a belated but sincere "Happy Birthday" to Miss Amy Allen, who I missed last week.

Thought for the week: "In our living and in our dying, we belong to God."

The Upper Room

Sunday, Sept. 7, is Grandparents Day, and wherever your grandparents live - the nursing home, next door, the next city or state - remember them on their special day with a phone call, letter, card, fruit, candy, flowers - or better than anything, if possible - a visit with a hug and kiss!

Mark it on your calendars!
